REAL ID Required

Travelers will need Real ID-compliant identification cards to board domestic flights starting May 7, 2025

The Real ID Act was passed by Congress in 2005 to increase security measures concerning state-issued personal identification cards, that are often used to access airports, military bases, and nuclear installations.

Do you know if you have a REAL ID or Not?

- Travelers should check to see whether there is a star in the upper portion of their card.
- Typically, it is a gold or black star, a star cutout in a gold or black circle.

Beginning May 7, 2025, only Real ID-compliant documentation will be accepted for boarding commercial flights. Includes: domestic flights, entering federal buildings and, military bases.

To receive a Real ID-compliant license, the Department of Homeland Security requires people to provide documents with the following information:

- One document (with full name) proving identity and date of birth (birth certificate or valid passport)
- One document (with full name and full Social Security number) confirming Social Security number
- Two documents (with current physical address) proving State residency
- For non-U.S. citizens, one document (with full name) proving legal presence/lawful status
- If applicable, one or more documents verifying any name change

Licenses are processed by each state; some states may require more information
